Why you joined IPPI:

We joined IPPI to meet colleagues in the area we can refer to. In the city, we had specialists to whom we referred, now we need to network locally. We value close collaboration with specialists to better serve our patients.

What you want your peers to know about your practice:

We are a concierge internal medicine private practice. Our model allows us to have longer appointment times and timely visits with same day or next day appointments for urgent issues. This practice design improves patient satisfaction and outcomes. We both worked at Northwestern Medicine for over thirty years in clinical care, medical education and leadership. We are recognized by the American College of Physicians and our peers as experts in our field.
